North Carolina Department of Public Instruction

Why we need Accessible materials

- Individuals with Disabilities Act (IDEA part D sec.674e3) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act ensure the provision of a free and appropriate public education (FAPE) and to meet the requirements of “providing instructional materials to blind persons or other persons with print disabilities, in a timely manner” (NC 1501-14.3a)

Print Disability

- A disability that severely inhibits or prevents a person from reading traditional print materials
- Includes visual impairments, learning disabilities (including dyslexia) or physical disabilities

Accessible Educational Materials

Accessible Educational Materials

- AEM is print-based educational materials converted into specialized formats, related to the requirements of the IDEA
- Implementation of the National Instructional Materials Accessibility Standard (NIMAS)
- Include both print-based & digital learning materials also graphic, audio or video

NiMAC

- National Instructional Materials Access Center providing files for elementary & secondary school students with print disabilities
- Files are available to “authorized users”
- Authorized users may also be considered Accessible Media Producers(AMP)

Do you know who the NiMAC authorized users are?

Accessible Educational Materials Navigator

- Free online tool teams may use to guide discussions
- Provides a summary of information
- Can be completed by any all team members

The screenshot shows the AEM Navigator interface. The top navigation bar includes links for Home, Current Session, Needs, Acquisition, Use, and Student Summary. The main content area is titled 'EC Test Student' and 'Grade: 3, Age: 9'. It contains an 'Instructional Context' section with text about specialized formats. Below this is a section for 'Student's current skills, needs, and preferences', which includes a list of environments and tasks for which specialized formats will be used. The interface is designed for collaborative team work, with buttons for 'On Back', 'Save to Summary and Continue', and 'Show All'.

NEED

This student requires exactly the same content in one or more specialized formats.

Evidence indicates that this student cannot use print-based instructional materials effectively at this time. The team anticipates that the student will make adequate progress if exactly the same information is presented in one or more specialized formats (e.g., braille, large print, audio, or digital text).

Information that led to this decision

Prior to his visual impairment the student was on grade level.

SELECTION

Student's current skills, needs, and preferences:

He can name some letters and colors depending on the day. He is learning to use the vision he has which is different before the accident. He has partial use of his left side. His listening abilities are very strong.

Environments in which specialized formats will be used:

He will be using the materials at school in both his regular and resource class and at home as well.

Tasks for which specialized formats will be used:

Multiple choice would be best for him at this point
